Professional Experience

Corina's practice includes all areas of contentious shipping, admiralty and insurance matters, including charterparty, mortgage, MOA and cargo disputes. She regularly acts for shipowners, charterers, banks, insurers and commodity traders. More recently, she has been heavily involved in acting for owners and financial institutions in numerous shipping insolvency cases. Corina has consistently been lauded as a highly esteemed litigator in The Legal 500 Asia Pacific. She has also been named as a leading expert in the fields of insurance and reinsurance and transport by Who's Who Legal.

Arbitration Experience

Over a 25 year period, Corina has acted for clients in the insurance, shipping and trading sectors, in a variety of arbitrations administered under the GAFTA, ICC, LMAA, PORAM, SIAC and SCMA Rules. These include acting for insurers defending a claim under a public liability and CAR policies, acting for the insurers of an insurance broker defending a negligence claim, acting for the reinsured in various disputes against its reinsurers under quota-share treaties, acting for insurers in subrogated cargo claims, acting for a trade finance bank in a misdelivery claim against shipowners, acting for a bank in relation to an insurance claim under a trade credit policy, defending a rice trader in an international sale of goods dispute, acting for a Chinese trader in a dispute relating to the sale of bunkers, acting for a trader in relation to a dispute over the quality of goods sold which also involved an anti-suit injunction from the Singapore Courts, and numerous charterparty and bill of lading disputes.
