Current Position

Partner, Han Kun Law Offices, Shanghai Office

Professional Experience

Since the mid-1990s, Mr. Jin has focused his practice on complex commercial and financial litigation, international and domestic commercial arbitration, large-scale tort litigation, insurance litigation, patent litigation, IP-related antitrust litigation, unfair competition disputes, and environmental liability cases. Before joining Han Kun, Mr. Jin was previously a partner as well as the head of the dispute resolution groups of King & Wood Mallesons, Shanghai Office and Haiwen & Partners, Shanghai Office. Mr. Jin is experienced in dealing with disputes that arise out of transactions (sales of goods, services, distribution, share transfers, IP licensing, business cooperation, investment and M&A), especially these involving manufacturing technology. Mr. Jin also excels at torts (general tortious disputes, IP infringement and anti-trust). Mr. Jin is experienced in dealing with the complex legal issues as to interpreting contract, identifying liability and determining damages. From the industrial perspective, he has recently been handling major dispute cases in the areas of industrial gases, pharmaceutical, chemical production, automated equipment, automobile, semiconductor chip, beverage and food, aircraft, hotel, internet, finance, PE investment, advertisement, entertainment, etc. He is highly recommended in various legal rankings, including Chambers & Partners, China Business Law Journal, and The Legal 500 Asia Pacific. The latest edition of Chambers & Partners 2021 has given him the reviews as “a go-to counsel for complex commercial litigation and arbitration cases in general and for ‘significant and complicated cases with foreign elements’ in particular”, who is “flexible in adjusting strategy according to the needs - thinking outside of the box and trying exhaustive ways.”

Arbitration Experience

Since the mid-1990s, Mr. Jin has been dealing with arbitration cases, as a counsel, at CIETAC, SHIAC, HKIAC and ICC. Since 2008, Mr. Jin has served as an arbitrator at CIETAC, SHIAC, HKIAC, SIAC and many other institutions. Mr. Jin also serves as a Deputy Chair of European Chinese Arbitrators Association. Since 2010, he has also been studying investment dispute arbitration between investors and State.

In the past three years, Mr. Jin has served as presiding arbitrator, sole arbitrator or party-appointed arbitrator in over 100 cases.
